Title: How to Manage your OTR Tires When You Can't Get What You Want

Presenter: Jack Dutcher, National Manager, OTR Training and Development, OTR Group, Bridgestone Firestone North American Tire, LLC

Abstract:

Everyone is aware there is a shortage versus demand for OTR tires. How you handle this situation can dramatically affect your production and your profitability. Remember, OTR tires affect machine performance which directly affects your production. If you don't have a tire or the right tire when you need one, you may lose production. This presentation is designed to give you some ideas of things you can do minimize this situation while maximizing your production.
